PASS AND BAY GROUP ASSEMBLE AT CEREMONY OF CHURCH FOUNDING

Trinity Episcopal Observes 90th Anniversary With Three-Day Program at Pass Christian Past Week—Bishop Mercer William Green Present—Rev. Wawick Aiken, Rector.

Pass Christian, Oct. 9.—In a church beautiful with palms and flowers and with Rt. Rev. Mercer William Green, bishop of Mississippi, preaching an inspirational sermon, Trinity Episcopal Church of Pass Christian observed the 90th anniversary of its founding.

Friday night Wilfred Lockyer of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Picayune enabled the congregation to hear for the first time the new organ just installed when he presented a recital of beautiful music. Mrs. S. J. Forshee and Kenneth Thompson of Christ Church, Bay St. Louis sang two duets, adding greatly to the occasion.

Saturday the former rector Rev. Girault M. Jones of St. Andrews Church, New Orleans, preached at Evening Prayer, filling again the pulpit he had occupied for five years and warming the hearts of those along the Coast who are unable to hear him. He was assisted in the service by Rev. Robert W. Emerson of St. Peter's By-the-Sea in Gulfport. Mrs. Jesse Goulding was at the organ.

A reception was given immediately afterward in the rectory, in honor of Bishop Green and the Rev. Mr. Jones and Mrs. Jones. Tea and coffee were poured by Mrs. William James Mitchell and by Miss Lucy Garrett and the guests were served by several young ladies of the parish.

On Sunday, Bishop Green celebrated Holy communion in Trinity while the Rev. Girault Jones celebrated in Christ Church at Bay St. Louis and both had a part in the Church School exercises in the Park Parish Hall at Trinity.

At 11 o'clock the congregations of Christ Church and St. Paul's joined with Trinity and practically filled the church. The combined choirs led by three choirs entered singing, Bishop Hebert and great hymns of praise, Holy! Holy! Holy! Lord God Almighty. The service was read by the Rev. Girault Jones, leading the congregation in prayer.

At confirmation Miss Marie Elaine Brandt and Miss Laurie McLaurin Smith were presented and confirmed by Bishop Green.

The offertory, The Lord's Prayer, was sung by Mrs. J. Forshee and Kenneth Thompson. Bishop Green pronounced benediction and the choir and congregation joined in singing the great marching hymn of the church, "Gould's Onward Christian Soldiers."

A picnic lunch was served under the moss-draped oaks in Trinity Churchyard. In the yard with its contrast of lights and shadows the grey-heads sat quietly in chairs and were properly served young ones were busy about the lunch; young people talked in groups or in couples; children romped and played with joyous voices. Trinity Church looked down from its venerable ninety years upon the scene that is ever changing yet in every generation is always the same.

"In these days of wars and violence, of changes among the nations of the world, of unrest among all peoples, of doubt and uncertainty, it is with profound thanksgiving to God that we turn to His church with its sense of permanence, with its stability, its message of eternal salvation, its assurance of victory through Him who has founded it and its quiet confidences and peace," Rev. Warwick Aiken, rector said.

GARDEN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

President Reminds Club Of First Anniversary—Mrs. Walter Price, Speaker.

On Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at Hotel Reed, the Bay-Waveland Garden Club met for its October meeting with a nice attendance and a pleasant program.

The members present were reminded of the picnic at Naval Reserve Park at Biloxi which will be held Wednesday, October 25th and which will include members of all garden clubs on the Coast.

Mrs. Rea reminded the Club that the meeting marked the first anniversary of the Garden Club and expressed gratification over the work, progress and achievements which had been accomplished in so short a time.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Walter Price, of Pass Christian, was introduced by Mrs. Rea and gave a most interesting and enlightening talk on flowers, flower shows and flower arrangement. Mrs. Price stated in part that harmony, rhythm, balance and originality are the foremost thoughts in flower arrangement.

Mrs. Price gave the following helpful suggestions for arranging flowers for shows: "The flowers should be placed in the sun goes down in place in deep water and out of currents of air which will wilt them. Remove the lower leaves as the water turns them black. Poppies and iris are best cut as buds and allowed to open where shown."

Dahlias and chrysanthemums respond to one half tablet of aspirin in two quarts of water. Carnations keep in boric acid—one half teaspoon to two quarts of water.

Asters keep well if cane sugar is added—one teaspoon to quart of water. Poppies will hold their petals if a few drops of gelatin are placed in the heart of the blossom. Water lilies will remain open if a few drops of paraffin are added to the heart of the flower at the base of the stem.

All flowers last better if cut on a slant with a sharp knife rather than shears. An uneven number of sprays or blooms should always be carried out as five, seven, nine and eleven.

Salt placed in water with zinnias will prolong their freshness. Mrs. Alice Buckley, pageant chairman, reported that the Pirate House was in readiness for the visit of Governor Hugh White and a party of twenty-five representatives of newspaper advertising men who are in convention at Gulfport and who will be guests of the local Garden Club this week at the Pirate House.

GEO. R. REA TALKS TO ROTARY

Club of Bay St. Louis and Tells of Trip to the Far Pacific West.

Mr. George R. Rea addressed the Rotary Club today, telling of his recent trip to the Pacific Coast and the Golden Gate International Exposition at San Francisco.

Mr. Rea said that he first went to Glacier National Park in Montana to attend the 33rd Biennial Grand Conclave of the Kappa Sigma Fraternity, of which he is the National treasurer, this office he has held for twenty years. There are several hotels in the Park operated by the Great Northern Railway and the convention was held at Many Glacier Hotel, situated sixty miles in the interior of the Park off the railroad. Glacier National Park is a beautiful park which exceeds Yellowstone National Park in grandeur in many ways. "After the Convention," Mr. Rea said, "Our party of four continued our way to Canada, stopping at Victoria, British Columbia, for Labor Day. The Empress Hotel here is operated by the Canadian Pacific Railroad and it is unusually beautiful and comfortable. Quite an English atmosphere prevails in Victoria so one would think he was in England instead of Canada. Tea is served at the Empress each afternoon at four in its spacious lounge and parlors, and this we enjoyed very much. The House of Parliament is situated at Victoria. The building is massive and beautiful. At night the contour of the building is lighted with electric lights. At Victoria is situated the Butchart Gardens, world-famed for beauty. The Empress Hotel could match these gardens with its collection of flowers in its conservatory and on its spacious grounds. On every lamp post in Victoria there is suspended two baskets of growing flowers in five colors with ferns, thus the streets are colorful and inviting. These baskets are watered each night by sprinklers."

"Returning to Seattle, we spent a day driving around the city with friends. The Government is spending a large sum, two million dollars, on a tree garden there, called Arbutus, which work is under the charge of one of my friends formerly with the University of Illinois. This project will not be completed for several years. Seattle is a beautiful city with its harbor extending around Lake Washington. The water is eight feet higher than the Pacific Ocean. All vessels passing from lake to ocean must enter through locks, which are continually in operation."

"Our next stop was at Portland, where we were the guests of Mr. Estes Snedecor, who was the National President of Rotary at the time. Mr. Allen resides in Eunice, Texas and is the first southern woman to be so honored by this distinguished body."

Mrs. Margaret Hogan, department president, and her able committees are planning an elaborate program for her entertainment, in which the citizens are requested to participate. There will be a large representation from the camps and auxiliaries in the state.

"Two of our party visited Crater Lake, Oregon, while Mrs. Rea and I spent the night at Klamath Falls during the day. There I met with the Rotary Club to hear a most interesting talk on Plastic Surgery by a famous Physician of San Francisco. Klamath Falls is in the center of fourteen lumber mills with payrolls of $600,000 monthly.

Golden Gate Exposition.

"We found the San Francisco Exposition to be well worth the trip to see. The illumination at night is wonderful. The Court of the Moon, the Court of the Sun, Girl and Rainbow Fountain, and the Court of Flowers are covered with a new paint (costing $21.00 per gallon) which reflects an iridescent light at night. The House of Magic by General Electric, attracts much attention. Here you see where light and sound waves are connected from one to the other, where refrigeration and heating are done in the same oven by short wave. The human voice is reproduced mechanically. The Counties of California contributed five million dollars toward this exposition. The California Building contained diatomic pictures of the history of the State. The Arts Building has on exhibition Mrs. Thorne's miniature rooms which attracted much attention. I learned from a prominent California Attorney that Sally Rand, the Fan Dancer (who wrote the book "The Four Feathers") is making all the money at the Fair. Her income is now $45,000 per month above expenses.

"The Golden Gate Park at San Francisco is one of surpassing beauty, containing 190 kinds of trees and shrubs within its 1013 acres. The work was done under the management of a botanist who is now 93 years of age. It is he who landscaped the exposition on Treasure Island and planted the magic carpet of flowers on its lawn."

"San Francisco can boast of two bridges of renown, the Golden Gate bridge costing fifty-five million dollars, and the Oakland bridge costing seventy-seven million. Both bridges are about 400 feet above water with 700 feet towers. The Oakland bridge is built earthquake proof to withstand any shock equal to eight times the force of the last earthquake which destroyed 400 blocks of buildings in San Francisco."

"At Los Angeles we were pleased to note many changes, because houses are now being built earthquake proof."

A new club was formed in Bay St. Louis on Tuesday night when sixty five of the town's male contingent met at Bay High School and organized what will be known as the Bay High Boosters. The club is composed of representative citizens and the meeting was presided over by Commissioner H. Grady Perkins who served as chairman for the evening.

After Mr. Perkins explained to the assembly the purpose of the meeting and discussions were held on ways and means to promote interest in the various activities of Bay High School, the following officers were elected: H. D. Kirkpatrick, President; H. B. Weston, Vice-President and Ernest Irwin, Secretary and Treasurer. An Advisory Council was chosen with the following as members: Ed. Osbourne, Jesse Gray, John McDonald and Dr. A. P. Smith.

The newly organized club was entertained by several numbers tendered by a quartette from the Glee Club of Bay High School and the Bay High Band. Miss Mitzie Manieri, drum major, who journeyed to Chicago and participated in the American Legion Home Economics here and won honors on her excellent exhibit of baton twirling, gave several exhibitions before the club. The program was greatly enjoyed.

At the end of the meeting, the club was served refreshments by the Bay High School Home Economics class in the Home Economics room of the school.

Former Bay Resident Dies at Home in New Orleans (Friday Last).

John August Ladner, half-brother of Ferdinand Egloff, former City Commissioner and retired business man of the Bay, died in New Orleans on Friday, October 6th, and was buried on Saturday at 3:30 in St. Vincent de Paul Cemetery there after services in the Annunciation church.

Mr. Ladner was a native of Bay St. Louis and was seventy years of age and had resided here up until seven years ago, and was well known here where besides Mr. Egloff, he is survived by a number of relatives.

GROUND BROKEN AT ST. AUGUSTINE SEMINARY FOR $40,000 BUILDING

Two-Story Structure With Red Tile Roof to Replace Wooden Structures—Will Have Frontage 157 Feet—Bulk of Material Purchased at Home.

Ground has been broken and excavations are being made for the foundation of an additional building to be constructed on the beautiful grounds of St. Augustine Seminary which will house a number of rooms which have become necessary in order to replace the old wooden structures presently used as dining rooms and kitchens.

The Society of the Divine Word has engaged R. C. Springer, of Meridian, Miss., as architect for this work and most of the material is being supplied by Bay St. Louis merchants.

The building contemplated will be a two-story red brick, with frontage of 157 feet red in the shape of an "E" with three wings. The center wing will house the kitchen, store rooms for various community activities. A red tile roof the same as that of the chapel and other buildings will be used on the new building and when completed, the entire structure will cost about $40,000.00.

The two small wooden structures which had been used since the building of the seminary here and which are still being used as kitchen and dining room will be torn down after the new building is completed. Both were cheaply constructed as temporary structures and were in need of great repair and were overcrowded and the building of the new modern building is in policy with the St. Augustine's efforts at making the Seminary property one of enhancement to the town.

Hancock Board of Supervisors are conducting quite a major improvement in the matter of road hardsurfacing back of Waveland and connecting Nicholson avenue, and Waveland avenue with the Old Spanish Trail. Incidentally the Nicholson avenue highway will be continued out thru the country section to Kiln. Nicholson avenue will not be only Waveland's main highway to connect the Trail as well as Nicholson but Coleman avenue will be hardsurfaced to also connect the Trail.

A representative of the Echo a few days ago, in company with county officials while on an inspection tour saw the building of the Waveland avenue highway, where men and machinery were busily engaged in building substantial foundation and pouring the first of the top layers for the surface.

It was noted the work was conducted in a manner that means for permanence and of lasting value. In other words the money being advanced by the federal government and supplemented by the county was being spent in a wise and foreseeing manner. This particular piece of roadway, part of topping which is finished, starts from the Waveland railroad depot and out to the curve that brings it northward to the Trail intersecting the B. & H. Tavern, not far from Brown's Vineyard.

When this new work of hardsurfaced roads will have been completed, connecting Logtown as well, a complete loop and inner intersections will have been completed and will save Hancock county in future the constant expense of road maintenance as heretofore.

This will prove a matter of economy and afford better roads. It evidences the wisdom of the Board of Supervisors in spending a few dollars supplemented with WPA funds and getting the most for the money. Hancock county is not getting substantial benefits from WPA funds, a visit to the various roads now in construction will soon dispel any such illusions or misconceptions.

Through the instrumentality of the Board of Supervisors this county has received considerable WPA funds, including the splendid seawall reinforcement work, and it is noted with gratification the wise direction of the Board members has resulted in getting the most results for the money.

This type of rebuilding and hardsurfacing the roadways above indicated is of the latest and nationally approved kind, and is costing only $2,000 per mile. The width of the roads are twenty feet and seven layers of topping are included in the construction.

The Echo is glad to note so substantial and permanent roadways are being built at the minimum of cost. Thanks to a wise and painstaking administration.

MILLIONS FOR BEAUTY WELL SPENT.

IT costs the American woman $113,000,000 a year to keep her hair waved, according to the American Cosmetics Association, which held a convention in Chicago recently.

Figures show that 39,000,000 women beat a path to 78,624 beauty shops where they spend what money they have to spare for what they are told is an enhancement of beauty, charm and personal attractiveness.

The modern American wife, taking a tip from the predilection of her bald-headed husband for the alluring girls of the beauty shows, puts the beauty shop on her "must" list and keeps a keen and critical eye on her appearance.

Personally, we don't blame the women. As long as men demonstrate their fondness for the form of grace and the face of beauty it behooves up-to-date girls to guard the beauty lines.

There is danger, perhaps, in the belief that is widespread among some women that a trip to the beauty parlor can restore, preserve or create beauty. The beauty folks can do wonders, we admit, but permanent beauty is likely to be the product of something more than facials, treatments, oils and permanents.

The attractiveness that women desire is not altogether the product of externals. The spirit of beauty is just as important. There is more to the inner life than most persons realize and life will become more enjoyable when this is more generally believed and acted upon.

Meanwhile, until the human race reaches a little closer to perfection, we advise women of all ages not to neglect their looks. In a man-dominated world it is important. Do the best you can to take care of the beauty that you have and make up for what you lack by developing graces and charms that outlast appeals that are frankly physical in their nature.

TAXES MOVE UPWARD.

THERE is little room for argument over the assertion of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States that there has been a tremendous growth of Federal, State and local taxes in the last decade.

Figures cited by W. Gibson Carey, Jr., president of the organization, show that Federal taxes advanced about 35 per cent between 1923 and 1938 and that State and local taxes jumped upward about 45 per cent.

The question to be considered is whether the activities of the various governments, financed by the increased taxation, have been worth while. Each reader can form his or her opinion as to various unnecessary functions of government and make suggestions as to items in the budgets that may be eliminated without harm to essential governmental activities.

That the cost of government has gone up in the United States is too plain for argument but inasmuch as Americans have seemingly accepted the idea that a government exists for the benefit of the people there is little reason to expect any substantial downward trend in governmental taxation. We would like to predict otherwise but the facts do not warrant any such prophecy.

STRENGTHENING PEARL HARBOR.

NEWS from the West coast indicates that a fully balanced, fast-striking force of the United States navy will be detached from the main fleet and stationed at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

The change in tactics is not caused by any idea that the British and French fleets constitute a menace to the United States. It is merely the wise precaution of recognizing that Japan might try to take advantage of the situation in Europe to attempt something in the Pacific.

This strengthening of our naval forces in Hawaii seems reasonable and will probably meet with approval of all Americans except those who believe that we can stay out of war by passing resolutions and chanting, "We want peace!"

NO END OF CIVILIZATION.

HOW many people heard the prophesy, before the European war broke out, that a great war would be the end of civilization?

Well, the idea is debunked by Dr. James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, who recently assured his listeners that "we are not facing the end of civilization." He told his young students that the nation in which they would earn a living would not be radically different from the United States as we now know it.

Every once in a while a college president makes a statement that demonstrates the intelligence that is presumably requisite in his office. Dr. Conant's observation falls into this category.

The greatest need of Bay St. Louis and every other town is real community co-operation.

Classified advertisements in The Sea Coast Echo are the modern vehicles to bring in dollars for unused and discarded articles.

The local movie theater advertises a film for showing this week entitled "I Stole a Million." One naturally wondered if it had any bearing in plot on the Louisiana situation.

No state in the union is receiving more free advertising just now than any other. However, it is not of the right kind. There is quite a distinction between publicity and notoriety.

VISITORS TO STATE AND GULF COAST.

A GROUP of editors and automobile publicity executives were guests of the state of Mississippi this week under auspices Mississippi Advertising Commission.

This distinguished group were visitors to various parts of the state, visiting our own famed Gulf Coast Tuesday and Wednesday, and extending their visit to Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

They were, needless to say, deeply impressed with this coast section, revealing to them an open book.

Little or nothing is known of this section to the world at large within our own nation's confines and a visit hither is always a revelation.

Headed by Governor Hugh L. White, the Mississippi Advertising Commission has been largely instrumental in attracting visitors to the state, many of whom as tourists have been invited directly by Gov. White, who sent them cards or invitations personally addressed. The result has proven fruitful. Thousands of visitors by motor have toured Mississippi who otherwise would not have steered their course this way.

Gov. White has done much toward advertising the state. The Mississippi Advertising Commission, which was created by the legislature at his suggestion has been productive of wide publicity and the result has been noted with gratification.

Statistics from the gasoline tax department reveal that gas sales to tourists has jumped up to a high mark the past two years and in turn the state has reaped additional revenue.

In turn we must advertise our own Gulf Coast specifically and draw more people to this section. This is the chief essential we lack. More resident population will make for larger and more substantial and successful centers.

MOTORIZING OVER THE ROADS OF CHARM.

AFTER a tirade against reckless drivers, who are making our new paved highways unsafe for those who motor for the pleasure of seeing the country, breathing the fresh air, and for the sheer joy of seeing the wheels go round, the editor of the Jackson News says:

If you want to enjoy your afternoon ride, get off the paved highways and seek the country roads. For getting the lay of the land, smelling the country smells, for mild and healthful exercise at the wheel, for interesting solitude, for experiencing ups and downs, for a sense of going somewhere, for a blend of perfect peace, for enjoyment of the beauties of nature, there is nothing like a leisurely ride along a country road.

Of course there are no scenic roads in the whole of Mississippi that will compare with our own Mississippi Gulf Coast, however, the foregoing still holds good even in this section that for the "lay of the land, for mild and healthful exercise at the wheel, for interesting solitude, * * * for a blend of perfect peace and enjoyment of the beauties of nature," there is nothing like our roads of the main highways; that take you to the interior country. Thru Hancock county, off the highway thru DeLisle and vicinity we know of no pastoral scenes that have more appeal to the mind of peaceful and unduring road.

HOMEcoming AT STANISLAUS.

THIS Sunday will be a gala day at St. Stanislaus College, as it is Homecoming day. A time looked forward to by students, parents, alumni and faculty.

A large assembly is expected for the day, and an interesting program has been arranged. The main attraction will be the football game in the afternoon between the Rockchaws and St. Aloysius Crusaders of New Orleans.

At noon time a barbecue lunch will be served on the grounds. All in all the day will be filled with entertainment. Dads and grads will be on hand as well as mothers sisters and brothers of the students.

Brother Peter, president of the college issued his message to all, inviting them to come and enjoy a pleasant day and it is hoped that the largest crowd yet assembled on previous Homecoming Day will journey to this city for the purpose of meeting and mingling with old time friends of years gone by and making new friends. A hearty welcome will be extended everyone.

LOCAL GAME WARDEN COMMENDED.

IT is interesting to note the local county game warden has received a letter from W. F. Dearman, state director, complimenting him on the splendid work he is already doing even though only recently appointed.

A letter of this kind was received this week by County Game Warden Randolph Bourgeois commending him for his alertness and success in enforcing the game protective laws to the very letter.

This is the object of the law and of the services of a warden—to protect game and its propagation. One need not remember very far back when game was plentiful in Hancock county and elsewhere in this section of the State. But the lack of proper laws and lax methods of enforcement are largely responsible for the paucity of game that exists today.

LOCAL GARDEN CLUB.

BAY WAVELAND Garden Club of this city held its first meeting of the season Tuesday at the local hotel with a goodly attendance and an enthusiastic spirit prevailing.

It was indicative of the fine spirit which actuates the members of the Garden Club, members who have banded themselves not only for the promotion of more and better gardens about the city but to foster a spirit of beautification and general progressiveness for this city. We cannot think of a more commendable motivation for the welfare of our city as a place to live and as a means of attracting more people.

The Garden Club is headed by a progressive spirit and its objectives are such as to warrant a large membership.

INTIMATE OBSERVATIONS BY A COLUMNIST.

I was glad to hear of the miraculous escape of Mr. and Mrs. Moreau on their return trip from a damaged bridge caused by a sandstorm and a cloudburst.

A narrow escape happened to me last Sunday in Birch Park. I talked quite a while to a gentleman. After leaving there I walked across the park and sat on a bench for a few minutes, suddenly with a terrific crash, down fell a huge black Acacia tree through the entrance by which I had been standing! It blocked the opening, it has since been removed. The tree had few roots, and was soaked with rain.

Mr. and Mrs. Moreau paid us a nice visit on the 29, of August, from 9:45 to 5 P. M. They arrived from San Diego on the Santa Fe stream-line, enroute to the San Francisco World's Fair. They had previously visited the New York World Fair. Mr. Moreau said: "The New York Fair was very grand, but he felt assured that the San Francisco Fair might be more beautiful."

After driving to Mr. and Mrs. Davies home and then to mine, we toured Santa Ana's residential suburbs. We stopped a moment at the home of the Maharajah of Indore, one of the richest men in the world. It was white, with high walls and barred windows.

Then we had dinner at a new wayside Inn on Main street. Driving down Main, you soon reach the Center of Santa Ana. Its large court house, with huge Cannon on front lawn, where small daisies bloom every season. The Chamber of Commerce, Masonic Temple, library, Broadway Theater and 4th street which is the business and shopping street. Santa Ana is supposed to be the shopping center of Orange County.

Passing the West Coast theater and City Hall, after leaving 4th street, we were headed for Newport Beach and Balboa, our destination. Soon after they arrived, I should have mentioned it before, Mr. Moreau accompanied by Mrs. Moreau and myself paid Editor R. C. Hoiles a visit in his office in the Register Building. He is the editor of the Santa Ana Register. A very nice long visit, too.

The drive to Newport Beach and Balboa was pleasant. The Eddie Martin Airport is on the road. Then Costa Mesa, and the Beaches. Mr. and Mrs. Moreau I am sure enjoyed themselves but did not stay very long, as they had to get home to take a rest and in time for the train. The train was late anyway. They stayed at my home until it was time to go to the depot. There is a new depot being built, in fact it is nearly finished.

We have been having terribly hot weather. Every day about 103 degrees. Then we had rain, then hot weather again. Walnuts began to open, so did the schools! There are plenty walnuts here; like the pecans in Mississippi. Soon it got so hot the schools were closed. Then we had a lot of rain. It's a lot cooler now. 70 degrees today in the house.

We started early, 8:30 A. M., on our trip from San Francisco and the Fair. Claude Davies is an electrical engineer and works at the race tracks during the races, Santa Anita, Hollywood, and Bay Meadows. We passed Bay Meadows at some distance. Then Bell Haven City, 101 Highway now. Deep yellow valley far from the ocean, a hot breeze! Hot, Hot, Hotter! 11:34 A. M. Yellow hay everywhere; cattle, horses; S. E. breeze. Rich field Stations all along the route, this one had an electric fan. Yosemite Junction. A wagon full of Boy Scouts going to the Park. Merced—Six miles from Fresno, it is a large town. Stopped at the Burton's, a family of musicians.

Lots of grapes. Oakwood Park, R. R. A fine road to Talare, where we will stop for the night. Just before near Oakwood Park, was a Richfield Radio Tower and then lot of apricots. Kings County Fair was to be Sept. 26, to 30. We stayed at J. Johnston's Auto Court. A relative of Mrs. Davies, Mr. Davies by the way, is a musician. He has played in the Santa Ana Band for years.

Opposite the Auto Court was the Fair grounds and a large hospital. That's all now, some other time I will finish the trip home.

I have just read of Miss Willie Gordon's accident, in The Sea Coast Echo. I am so sorry about it.

PLEA

Discordant sounds again they hear. Reverberations rend the air. Relentless war shrills, far and near, Of deadly havoc everywhere. This breeds within men hate and fear.

Twin tyrants, soon to crush them all With horror that to Heaven cries, As one by one they gasp and fall, And comrades near to comrades bid: Mute tribute to a country's fall.

How swift your messengers of grief! How cold, O Science, is your steel In tragedy beyond belief. Suppose your might, for common weal, You should exert to bring relief.

Oh, could you not some measure find, Or banquet now propound To end this scourge upon mankind? A weary world to thus abound, And peace and love forever band? —FRANCES THOMPSON.

The above poem composed and written by Mrs. J. H. Thompson at the meeting of the Poetry Society of Louisiana, of which she is an active member, held Thursday, September 28th in the Beauregard Court Yard in New Orleans. The poem was read by Mr. Beverly Brown and approved by the critics of the organization. Mrs. Thompson is a sister of Mrs. L. S. Elliott.

PLOWING FIRE BREAKS IN HANCOCK COUNTY.

The benefits derived from plowing fire breaks have long been discussed by those interested in forest fire protection. The Mississippi Forest Service, during the past year, has plowed approximately 2,500 miles of fire breaks, mostly in South Mississippi.

These breaks have stopped a large per cent of the fires which occurred last season. A very limited number of fires jumped the breaks; however, the largest per cent of the fires were stopped before they ever reached the breaks which shows that our fire crews are "on their toes" and do not wait for the fire to burn to the breaks before attacking them.

The cost of construction of breaks is about $1.00 per mile, and it is felt that it is possibly one of the best invested dollars in the fire protection program. The Commission hopes to be able to move this fire break plow to the northern part of the State so as to give it a thorough trial in North Mississippi, as well as in the southern part of the State. The foregoing is published in the interest of Fire Prevention Week in Mississippi, auspices Mississippi Forestry Association.

J. S. Shaw, fire ranger for Hancock county, is one of the State's most enthusiastic and successful workers.

PETITION FOR PARDON.

To His Excellency Honorable Hugh L. White, Governor of the State of Mississippi:

We, the undersigned officers, residents and citizens of the State of Mississippi, respectfully petition your Excellency to pardon Samuel Paul Wilson, a negro, who was convicted of the assault with intent to rape a negro girl.

He was convicted in the Circuit Court of Hancock County at the March, 1939 term and sentenced to serve two years in the State Penitentiary. His term began about the 1st of April, 1939. Your petitioners would respectfully show to your Excellency as follows:

That Samuel Paul Wilson is a young man only eighteen years of age. That he was always considered a good boy and there was some serious question as to his guilt.

That because of his tender age mercy should be shown. We believe that Samuel Paul Wilson has been punished sufficiently for the crime for which he was charged, and that executive clemency should be granted.

Respectfully submitted,

"Daughters Courageous" Brilliant Dramatic Hit To Be Shown Sunday.

Cast of "Four Daughters" returns in fresh, captivating tale. John Garfield, Lane Girls, Fay Bainter, and Claude Rains divide honors in the picture to be shown at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

All the charm, all the humor, all the pathos, all the simple, human and folksy quality of last year's memorable "Four Daughters" have been recaptured by Warner Bros. in "Daughters Courageous."

The picture leaves one with that some warm glow of sentimental happiness, tinged with a little sadness, that was the dominant quality in "Four Daughters." What makes it seem just a little bit better is the fact that it has a bit more comedy along the way, and the comedy is exceptionally bright and witty.

About the acting of a cast so large and so obviously brilliant as that of "Daughters Courageous" there is little need to comment. It may be a little unfair to select any members of the cast for special mention, since they are all so fine, but it would be dodging a responsibility to fail to mention that Garfield again tops all the others, even if it is only by a little bit. Particularly fine also are Priscilla Lane and Miss Bainter.

quake proof. All city schools had been rebuilt at a cost of twenty-five million dollars. Tall buildings over ten stories are not permitted in California by act of Legislature because of earthquakes. We were the guests of the president of the Board of Education of Los Angeles who had these school buildings under his jurisdiction. We saw the Shrine Auditorium seating 7000 people which is the largest in the United States. The present potentate of the Shriners of Los Angeles is Harold Lloyd, which temple has a membership of 12,000. Harold was forced to abandon his movie actor work this year because of this office with which he was honored. We visited the Forest Lawn Memorial Park at Glendale (suburb of Los Angeles.) In this park are situated two beautiful churches, non-sectarian; in which is also located a cemetery, crematory, undertaking room, and mausoleum. Everything for the dead is provided here. Jean Harlow's ashes are reposed here and her resting place is kept quite secret from the public.

"In the upper story of mausoleum is the stained glass window of 'The Last Supper' which was copied from Leonardo da Vinci's world-famed masterpiece painted on plaster wall in Milan, Italy. This window is attracting so much attention that it is necessary to obtain admittance card in advance. Rosa Moretti, who made this work of art, is the last of a family who made stained glass for six years was consumed in the making of this window and five times the picture of Judas was broken in the kiln.

"In this park is the Court of David, copied from Michael Angelo, and also a fine carving in marble of the 'History of Life.' Every Easter morning thousands of people come to worship before the huge marble cross in the midst of this park.

"There will be an election this month in Calif., to vote upon $300,000 every Thursday pensions. The slogan of this ticket is 'ham and eggs for breakfast every morning for everybody.'

"We saw a fleet of twenty-five battleships at San Pedro (Los Angeles harbor) which fleet go out for target practice and return each week so that the officers may see their families and the sailors spend their money—quite a financial income for them.

"Next day we spent at Pasadena as the guests of the city attorney. This city is the home of many millionaires and is strictly residential. Here is located the 'Rose Bowl' stadium and every New Year's Eve a parade of Roses, every float covered with natural flowers, precedes the great football game between the East and the West, also here is the world famous Huntington Library and Art gallery.

"Fortunately we left California when we did before an excessive heat wave, as the thermometer went from 104.2 in Los Angeles to 108 degrees in San Diego.

"After spending a day at Grand Canyon, which I learned was thirty million years in preparation before we arrived, we came to Albuquerque. The architecture in this city is all Spanish and Indian, many buildings are adobe. Water is very precious here and I was informed that the University of New Mexico, located here, pays $600.00 per month for water for its trees and lawns and buildings.

"Our next stop was at Colorado Springs where we were met by the Dean of Colorado College. He told us of having frost during the night. We enjoyed a trip up Cheyenne Mountain to see the Will Rogers Memorial Tower. The tourist trains in Colorado Springs bring lots of money to this little city. Many miles of new highway through the mountains bring large dividends. The highway to Pike's Peak has paid for itself and the toll charge removed.

"Denver is the most beautiful city in the northwest and here are many hospitals of note. The people are most hospitable and every traveler is reluctant to leave. The highway through Rocky Mountain National Park has been paved over the Continental Divide and our party drove

MRS. W. K. M. DUKATE DIES AT BILOXI AT THE AGE OF 80 YEARS.

Was Widow of Pioneer Seafood Packer of Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Mrs. Linda Rose Leonard Dukate, 80-year-old lifelong resident of the Coast and widow of Wm. K. M. Dukate, died Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Biloxi Hospital. Mr. Dukate was a pioneer in the seafood industry in this country and for many years was prominent in the affairs of Biloxi.

Mrs. Dukate leaves her son Elbert L. Dukate, Biloxi; three daughters, Mrs. Carl Mathes, Mrs. Irma Gorenflo, and Mrs. Hart Chinn, Biloxi, and a sister, Mrs. Katie McKee, New Orleans.

Mrs. Dukate had done much good in Biloxi contributing to numerous organizations in a charitable way. She was a member of the Catholic Church. She was married April 27, 1878.

Mrs. Dukate had been in poor health for more than a year, but was not taken seriously ill until Saturday night when she had a heart attack. She was removed to the hospital.

About 1880 Mr. Dukate with L. Lopez, Sr., F. W. Elmer, James Maycock and Wm. Gorenflo formed probably one of the pioneer seafood packing concerns in the country.

Mr. Dukate went to Baltimore to study what was available as to this industry. In 1884 Mr. Lopez and Mr. Dukate organized the Lopez, Dunbar Sons Co., and following this other factories were established, during the period when Biloxi was the seaming point in the country in the leading of oysters with Baltimore.

At one time the firm of L. Lopez, Sr. and W. K. M. Dukate was the largest individual packer of oysters, shrimp and figs in the country. In public enterprises Mr. Dukate was very prominent and the fact the establishment of his plant laid the foundation that built Biloxi's large seafood business.

In helping to provide suitable educational buildings for the city of Biloxi Mr. Dukate was most generous and the Dukate school is now a testimonial of this fact. In the affairs of the city Mr. Dukate not only took a deep interest, but contributed his full share toward securing the improvements needed and the advantages desired.

ROSE SHOW AT ORLEANS NOV. 5.

The New Orleans Rose Society will hold its annual Rose Show on Saturday November 5th from 1 to 9 P. M. at the Packard Motor Company's sales rooms at 1830 St. Charles avenue, where there will be a splendid exhibit of blooms.

This distance of 250 miles in seven hours over an altitude of two miles through snow covered peaks. The people of Denver feel that the fifty million dollars they have spent in mountain drives brings big returns from tourists.

"Colorado has passed the old age pension law of $45.00 per month. Those 60 years of age who have lived in the state for ten years previously and those who moved into the state receive a pension at the age of sixty-five provided they resided there three years previous. I see where Colorado gets an influx of new people of middle age.

"We rode from Denver to Chicago over the Zephyr streamline train, making the trip over night traveling about eighty miles per hour. These Zephyrs are propelled by Diesel engines, practically noiseless, without vibrations. It is necessary to get reservations in advance for all seats, no extra fare. Every car has its own Porter, and the Hostess is a trained nurse. The sleeping cars on this train are the latest word by Pullman, with wider and longer berths, better mattresses and blankets.

"By comparison, and for your consideration, I find the West had the problem of waste lands, sage brush and cacti, earthquakes and mountains to overcome, which they did by making these appeal to the five senses of mankind—seeing, hearing, feeling, tasting and smelling. We have none of these advantages to overcome, but we need better trains, better roads, more advertising, a pier and parks, which can be done by hard work through an active Chamber of Commerce.

MISS CAROLINE BALLARD BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. WILLIAM LANG ARGUS.

ON Friday last at the home of M. r. and Mrs. Marshall Ballard on S. Beach boulevard, a beautiful Autumn wedding was celebrated when Miss Caroline Catherine Ballard, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ballard, and William Lang Argus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Argus of New Orleans were married by the Very Rev. A. J. Gmelch, with members of the two families and of the wedding party only present.

The pretty bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding gown of white satin, made in the new bustle effect, with a narrow band of lace around the waistline and on the bustle, and two wide panels of lace fell from the bustle. The neck was V-shaped and large leg-o-mutton sleeves completed the effect. The skirt formed a long train, and a triangle of lace and cluster of orange blossoms held the veil of illusion. Miss Ballard carried a bouquet of white lilies and lilies of the valley. The lace worn on the costume was rare old lace, an heirloom in the family.

Miss Edith Ballard was maid of honor, and another sister, Mrs. Charles L. Seemann, was matron of honor. Mrs. Robert Argus, sister-in-law of the groom, was also an attendant, and they were all attired in lovely old-fashioned frocks of white taffeta, with wide skirts falling into graceful trains and wide sashes of emerald green velvet tied with bows in the back. The necklines were decolletees off the shoulders, and each carried a bouquet of white dahlias.

Mr. Robert Argus was best man, and two other brothers, Messrs. Harold Argus and Bernard Argus, Jr., and Messrs. Marshall Ballard, Jr., Samuel Ballard, brothers of the bride, and Mr. Charles F. Seemann, were groomsmen.

Mrs. Ballard was wearing a black marquisette and crepe gown, and Mrs. Argus wore a becoming slate blue crepe. Corsages of gardenias completed the costumes.

A luncheon was served following the ceremony in the large dining room of the Ballard home and with a beautifully appointed table covered with a real lace cloth.

The young couple left on a tropical cruise aboard the S. S. Uloa and on their return, will reside in New Orleans. Mrs. Argus was a going away costume of brown and with brown accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Bay High School and of Tulane University where she graduated with special honors, and the groom is also a graduate of Tulane. The wedding claimed interest in New Orleans and on the Coast where both young people are prominently known.
